

Poultry and Prisons: Food, Labor, and Incarceration in Northeast Georgia

Discussion Questions

Poultry industries disorganized Black-led worker movements with undocumented-immigrant recruitment. Do you see these disorganization tactics deployed by industries today? In what sectors? How are/how can workers and organizers fight back?

Let's discuss time, its value, and connection to racial capitalist logic. How is this discussed today in our current labor movement struggles?

How are industrial technologies mystifying the relations of capitalism? What industries do we see this in today?